Brooklyn touched many lives in her short time here on earth; she brought us so much joy and taught us by her shining example about unconditional love, acceptance, courage & compassion. Despite her challenges she was a free spirit with a zest for life who found enjoyment in the small things and lived every day to the fullest. She loved music and dancing, and had a great sense of humour; it's her laughter we'll miss the most...but take comfort in the thought that she's 'dancing with the angels now'.

RIP Lil Missy, xxo

* as a tribute to Brooklyn her family requests that everyone attending her celebration wear something in one of her favourite colors; pink or purple.
