Jack T Wong

In Loving Memory

Jack passed away peacefully on November 7, 2026, at Royal Jubilee Hospital in Victoria, after a courageous year-long battle with a very rare form of cancer.

He will be lovingly remembered by his wife, Fei; his eight-year-old son, Eron; his brothers, Robert and Leland; his father, Peter; and a wide circle of extended family, lifelong friends, and colleagues. In his final days, Jack had the opportunity to say farewell to many dear friends and family members, sharing stories, laughter, and precious moments that will be cherished forever.

A proud alumnus of St. Michaels University School (SMUS) in Victoria, Jack built a distinguished career in healthcare technology, working with McKesson Canada, Queen’s Medical Center in Hawaii, and Sectra Medical Canada. Over more than 25 years, he dedicated himself to helping hospitals and healthcare systems improve their technology and delivery of patient care. More than a respected professional, Jack was an advocate, a trusted friend, and a calm voice of reason. He championed his customers, supported his colleagues, and genuinely cared about making things better for those around him. His knowledge, positivity, generosity, and uplifting spirit left a lasting impression on everyone who worked alongside him.

Beyond his career, Jack lived with curiosity, passion, and enthusiasm. A lifelong rugby enthusiast, he travelled overseas through the sport and built lasting friendships on the field. Kapiolani Park in Honolulu held a special place in his heart as his favourite rugby field.

Jack travelled extensively throughout North America, Europe, and Asia. His many years living in Hawaii left a lasting mark on him. Affectionately known as the “Chief Hawaii Enthusiast,” he carried the Aloha spirit wherever he went, sharing its warmth, generosity, and love of life. His trademark colourful Hawaiian shirts were a familiar sight and a reflection of the island spirit he cherished.

An avid photographer, Jack captured the beauty of the world and the special moments shared with family, friends, and colleagues. His photographs leave us with a treasured collection of memories—a world seen through his eyes.

Above all, Jack will be remembered as one of the kindest and most engaging people. He had a rare gift for making others feel welcome, valued, and heard. He built friendships that lasted, connections that mattered, and brought warmth and light into every room he entered. His greatest legacy lies not only in his professional contributions or adventures around the world, but in the countless lives he touched along the way.

Jack took these words to heart, making it his mission to do good, treat people well, and leave things better than he found them.

And that is exactly what he did.

He will be deeply missed, forever loved, and remembered with gratitude by all who had the privilege of sharing in his life.

A Celebration of Life and reception honouring Jack will be held in the Sequoia Centre at McCall Gardens, 4665 Falaise Drive, Victoria, BC on Thursday, November 19, 2026, at 2:00pm.

A church service may also be held in Vancouver the following week. Further details will be announced.

In lieu of flowers, those wishing to honour Jack’s memory may consider making a small contribution to Eron’s Education Fund, helping support his future and continuing Jack’s legacy through his son.

Condolences may be offered to the family below.
