

Theresa (Terry) Lillian Edge

December 11th, 1916 – January 21st, 2015

On January 21st, 2015, and in her 99th year, Mom journeyed peacefully into God's care. Terry was born in Halifax, Nova Scotia, and was one of the last, if not the last, remaining survivors of the Halifax explosion in November, 1917. As a young girl, she moved to Victoria with her parents, Theresa and George Wragg. She attended school in Esquimalt and had a career as a bookkeeper before starting a family. In the 1940s, she and Dad built a home on Harling Point in south Oak Bay where she lived for the remainder of her days.

Mom had a wonderful zest for life. She loved to travel and made many trips to Europe, particularly England, with her daughters to visit her relatives and friends. She enjoyed "playing the slots" both at the casino here and in Reno. She participated in activities at the Monterey Centre and was, until a couple of years ago, a regular member of the Thursday morning sing-along group. She was a kind-hearted and very giving woman, a supportive mother and a dear friend to many. She adored all animals, especially dogs. Mom drove until she was 92 and actively played cards with her friends until she was 95.

Terry was predeceased by her husband, Albert (Jerry) Edge in 1976 and subsequently by her cherished friend, Godfrey McMurchie, in 1992. She leaves to mourn her passing her two daughters, Maureen Taylor and Kathleen Edge. She will also be greatly missed by her English cousins, Jean Oakley and Paul des Salles; her lifelong friends, Bea Rowley and Joy Obee; as well as other friends and extended family members.

Maureen and Kathleen would like to thank the home care team, especially Debbie, Angela, Kathleen and Patricia, as well as Dr. Fiona Manning and Andrea Hofmeyr (VIHA). Without their support, we could not have fulfilled Mom's wish to remain in our family home.

No service by request. There will be a celebration of Mom's life announced at a later date. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the Victoria SPCA.

"Come to me, all you who are weary and heavy-burdened, and I will give you rest."

Condolences may be offered to the family below.
